Guided Salmon Fishing on the Rivers Tummel, Garry and Tilt

Spend a memorable day fishing the beautiful River Tummel, part of Scotland's renowned Tay system and one of the country's most celebrated salmon rivers. The river flows through dramatic Highland scenery and offers a wonderful setting for both experienced anglers and those trying salmon fishing for the first time.

Your day will be guided by an experienced local ghillie who knows the river intimately and will tailor the experience to your ability. Tackle and waders can be provided if required, and your ghillie will happily offer instruction throughout the day. Between casts there is time to enjoy the quiet beauty of the riverbanks, watch wildlife along the water and take in the surrounding hills. Many guests enjoy adding a relaxed riverside picnic to the day, creating a wonderfully traditional Highland fishing experience.

Fly Fishing Casting Lesson

For guests new to fly fishing, a casting lesson with a local ghillie offers the perfect introduction. Lessons take place on the lawn or beside the loch and cover the fundamentals of fly casting, line control and presentation. With expert guidance you will quickly gain the confidence needed to fish successfully during your stay. Many guests choose to combine a casting lesson with trout fishing on one of our beautiful Lochs.

Trout Fishing on Rotmell Loch

High above Dunkeld lies Rotmell Loch, a peaceful upland loch surrounded by beautiful Highland countryside. Here guests can enjoy a relaxed day fishing for wild brown trout in an idyllic setting. Fishing can take place either from a small boat on the loch or from the quiet banks. Rotmell is particularly well suited to beginners, offering an excellent introduction to fly fishing, although experienced anglers also enjoy the challenge of its lively trout. Your ghillie will provide guidance and tackle if required, ensuring the day is both enjoyable and rewarding. It is a wonderfully peaceful way to spend time outdoors in the Highlands.
